Section B - Project Justification and Environmental Results

B.1. Is the principal purpose of this award to transfer anything of value to the recipient to support or stimulate a public purpose authorized by an EPA grant making statute in accordance with the Federal Grant and Cooperative Agreement Act? (The purpose of the award must not be to acquire goods or services for the direct use and benefit of the Federal Government.) (See the 'Policy for Distinguishing Between Assistance and Acquisition', EPA Order 5700.1.): Yes
B.1.a. Describe the specific project activities and how they will further the recipient's own efforts to protect the environment. EPA will not award a grant unless the funding recommendation is based on criteria stated in EPA Order 5700.1. An assistance agreement is the appropriate legal instrument because the activities to be supported are authorized by federal statute and are not principally for the direct benefit or use of the federal government. A cooperative agreement is appropriate because EPA will be substantially involved during the performance of the contemplated activities. This agreement provides financial assistance to the recipient to implement its own project to support site specific activities related to remedial investigations, feasibility studies, proposed plans and remedial designs at EPA lead sites pursuant to CERCLA. Assistance is being provided through a cooperative agreement because there will be substantial federal involvement in this assistance relationship. Substantial federal involvement includes programmatic oversight, and review and comment on all agreement activities and products identified in the workplan. EPA involvement will include program management, supervision and support for Superfund activities at various NPL sites. The activities covered under this cooperative agreement will directly benefit the state of New Jersey .
B.1.b. Is this a cooperative agreement? Yes

B.2. Does the scope of the work involve conducting any conferences or workshops? No

B.3. If this is a new or continuation award or a supplemental amendment to a grant awarded 1/1/2011 or later, answer this question: Are costs for light refreshments, meals or beverages included in the workplan or budget? (new as of April 2012): No

B.4. Describe how the project relates to the statutory authority.

The statutory authority that allows EPA to enter into a cooperative agreement with a state, political subdivision or a federally recognized Indian tribe is CERCLA Section 104(d)(1). The support agency assistance funding will be used by the recipient for substantial and meaningful involvement at EPA-lead Superfund sites.

The statutory language is below:

(d) Contracts or cooperative agreements by President with States or political subdivisions or Indian tribes; State applications, terms and conditions; reimbursements; cost-sharing provisions; enforcement requirements and procedures

(1) Cooperative Agreements.-

(A) State applications.-

A State or political subdivision thereof or Indian tribe may apply to the President to carry out actions authorized in this section. If the President determines that the State or political subdivision or Indian tribe has the capability to carry out any or all of such actions in accordance with the criteria and priorities established pursuant to section 9605(a)(8) of this title and to carry out related enforcement actions, the President may enter into a contract or cooperative agreement with the State or political subdivision or Indian tribe to carry out such actions. The President shall make a determination regarding such an application within 90 days after the President receives the application.

section 9605(a)(8) says:

criteria for determining priorities among releases or threatened releases throughout the United States for the purpose of taking remedial action and, to the extent practicable taking into account the potential urgency of such action, for the purpose of taking removal action. Criteria and priorities under this paragraph shall be based upon relative risk or danger to public health or welfare or the environment, in the judgment of the President, taking into account to the extent possible the population at risk, the hazard potential of the hazardous substances at such facilities, the potential for contamination of drinking water supplies, the potential for direct human contact, the potential for destruction of sensitive ecosystems, the damage to natural resources which may affect the human food chain and which is associated with any release or threatened release, the contamination or potential contamination of the ambient air which is associated with the release or threatened release, State preparedness to assume State costs and responsibilities, and other appropriate factors; based upon the criteria set forth in subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, the President shall list as part of the plan national priorities among the known releases or threatened releases throughout the United States and shall revise the list no less often than annually. Within one year after December 11, 1980, and annually thereafter, each State shall establish and submit for consideration by the President priorities for remedial action among known releases and potential releases in that State based upon the criteria set forth in subparagraph (A) of this paragraph. In assembling or revising the national list, the President shall consider any priorities established by the States. To the extent practicable, the highest priority facilities shall be designated individually and shall be referred to as the "top priority among known response targets", and, to the extent practicable, shall include among the one hundred highest priority facilities one such facility from each State which shall be the facility designated by the State as presenting the greatest danger to public health or welfare or the environment among the known facilities in such State. A State shall be allowed to designate its highest priority facility only once. Other priority facilities or incidents may be listed singly or grouped for response priority purposes;

The description must identify all EPA strategic goals and objectives listed under Section B.4 consistent with the appropriate Program Results Codes. (See EPA Order 5700.7, Section 8.) If a selected PRC maps to a Cross Agency Strategy (CAS) instead of a goal and objective, the description must identify the CAS and also identify relevant goals and objectives addressed by the proposed project.
